

cull case study

Cull micro imaging Ltd., Imaging House, Unit 5, West Float Industrial Estate, Millbrook Road, Birkenhead, Merseyside CH41 1FL
Tel 0151 638 6000 • Fax 0151 638 6099 • Email info@cull.co.uk • www.cull.co.uk

Big enough to deliver, small enough to care.

Culls' solution and service portfolio enables us to cater for the full document management lifecycle. Whether the need is an in-house document management solution, an outsourced scanning service or even a feature rich hosted EDRM solution Cull can deliver. We work with you to understand your business needs and budgetary constraints to arrive at a bespoke solution.

“We have now disposed of our central storage unit, and we can find everything we need at the click of a button. This allows us to work more efficiently and has saved a considerable amount of space.”

Ian MacGregor, Managing Principal, Lees Solicitors

The Customer Sector DocumentType Volumes

Lees Solicitors LLP

Legal Firm
Matter Files
8,000,000 pieces of historical paperwork. Over 100,000 pages converted each month.

Lees Solicitors LLP

Lees Solicitors LLP are a progressive legal practice in the North West serving clients both locally and nationally. Lees advise private and business clients providing a full range of services including Accident and Personal Injury, Clinical Negligence, Family Law, Court of Protection, Residential Conveyancing, Wills, Trusts and Estates; for the commercial sector, they advise on a full spectrum of issues including Commercial Litigation and Commercial Property, as well as Employment Law, Business Services and Corporate.

The Issue

Like most law firms Lees Solicitors LLP deal with a huge volume of paperwork. As the burden of storing records grew, they established a central off site location to store all documents ensuring they were meeting with stringent legal requirements. As government and SRA requirements have evolved it means that documents need to be kept for a long period and sometimes indefinitely. The Principals realised that the total volume of files stored would constantly increase and taking extra storage space was not an option.

The Solution

The solution was simple. Lees Solicitors LLP needed a solution that could store all their documents electronically as well as the capability of converting them. Combining FileDirector Document Management software with the Cull bureau service has enabled Lees Solicitors LLP to free a huge amount of space, increase business efficiency and dramatically improve business continuity and disaster recovery capabilities.